

Karma watches everything you do
It knows who's false and who is true
You think you can hide, but it sees it all
What you give will return, big or small

Karma, the law of life so fair
It comes for all, no matter where
No disguise will shield or resist
Cause Karma is a bitch, it won't be missed

Lies and tricks won't take you far
Karma's waiting, it knows who you are
It counts your steps, it keeps the score
One day it knocks right at your door

Karma, the law of life so fair
It comes for all, no matter where
No disguise will shield or resist
Cause Karma is a bitch, it won't be missed

It moves so quiet, it takes its time
Karma's justice is pure and prime
It sets things right, it brings the truth
The echo of all you choose to do

Karma, the law of life so fair, so fair
It comes for all, no matter where, no matter where
No disguise will shield or resist, or resist
Cause Karma is a bitch, it won't be missed

What you give will come around
Karma's justice will always be found
